UW Medicine

UW Internal Medicine Residency Primary Care Track

- Comprehensive, immersive training in outpatient medicine, as well as clinical teaching, leadership, quality improvement, health systems, policy, and advocacy
- The majority of training is in the outpatient setting honing core primary care skills
- Gain the expertise to thrive as a leader and advocate in your clinic and community
- Build community with your PC track colleagues and form lasting relationships through various social activities held throughout the year, a full day PC retreat, and dedicated immersion blocks
- You can also participate in both a clinical and/or non-clinical training pathway
